

Lesson Etiquette:

Please arrive at your lesson at least 5 minutes early, so you can get unpacked, and ready to start!

Make sure to silence your smartphones, and tablets before the lesson. That way we can all stay focused during our time together.

Remember to bring a notebook to take notes during the lesson; physically writing something down solidifies the information better than typing. We have a saying in our house: “What the hand forms, the mind remembers”!

Sickness:

If we've learned anything over the past couple of years, it's that none of us want to get sick, in any form!

If you or a family member at home is sick, please let me know ahead of time, so we can plan for a virtual lesson.

I work with many students throughout the week, and I want to be as healthy as I can for everyone's sake!
